Client's Rights & Responsibilities & Grievance Process

Client's Rights & Responsibilities: ASC accepts Clients without regard to race, color, religion or national origin. Services are provided for fees. Clients are expected to pay for services either at the time of service or as arranged with the office. Clients have a right to professional counseling services that meet the standard of care of the profession, and to receive a written statement from the counselor regarding such standards and the counselor's credentials. Clients have a right to the least restrictive treatment possible given their clinical status. Clients wishing to view their own records have the right to do so. Former clients have the right to receive copies of their records; however, whenever possible records are released to another treatment provider so that such matters as the format of clinical notes can be discussed with the client by the provider. There may be a fee for copying records. Clients are responsible for being active participants in their own treatment, for coming to appointments on time without having used chemical substances within 15 hours, for working towards goals to improve their lives, for maintaining a cooperative relationship with the counselor and other group members, for paying posted fees as agreed to, for keeping information about other clients confidential, and for providing necessary forms that allow ASC to carry through on its responsibilities.

Consent to Treatment: Client consents assessment and treatment as the professional staff of ASC may decide and is aware that care and treatment of substance abuse and mental health problems are not exact sciences. Clients acknowledge that no guarantees have been made as to the results of treatment and evaluation, and that he/she will pay the fees that have been explained verbally or in writing. Client authorizes ASC to contact them for the purposes of follow-up studies and agree that my chart may be randomly selected for review purposes of quality assurance.

The Terms of Participation: Client agrees to make every effort to attend each session and be on time. If you are too late you will not be admitted to group. It is strongly advised that Clients attend every session so that they can complete the programs in a timely manner. Failure to attend at least once a month will result in termination from the program as non-compliant. No one whom the Counselor determines has used alcohol or drugs or who is too intoxicated to participate in group will be allowed to attend the session. If a Counselor believes a Client has used such a substance and the client denies it, the Counselor may request a breathalyzer test or other form of drug testing as appropriate. Client agrees to complete all assignments and participate in group discussions. Agreement with the Counselor or other group members is not mandatory. Honesty concerning Client's opinions and what is going on in his/her life is essential. Confidentiality will be respected. ASC is a private agency that does not give the court information about client's statements, opinions or values. Each Client agrees to maintain the same level of guarding confidentiality about others in the group and does not tell other people the names, identifying information, or other data about other group members.

Grievance Process: Occasionally questions or disagreements between therapists and clients come up. You may question why your therapist made a particular statement, or made a specific recommendation. If this happens, the first thing to do is to ask your therapist the reasons for the action or statement. You won't be punished or given inferior care for voicing your opinion, but you are likely to feel resentful and get less out of your treatment experience if you do not bring up concerns you have. Most differences can be resolved through open discussion. The administration shall insure that all complaints are handled promptly and professionally. Complaints that cannot be satisfactorily resolved by agency treatment staff shall be referred to Director and/or Clinical Supervisor and resolved at a maximum of fifteen (15) business days from receipt of complaint to Program Director. If necessary and with your written consent, we will bring in another therapist, possibly one not associated with ASC, to help resolve the problem, there will be no additional cost to you for this therapist's services. Grievances will be maintained separately from the Client's clinical chart and will be reported annually to OBH. If after talking to your therapist, perhaps with an additional mediating therapist, you think that you are not getting the treatment, counseling, or care you need, you can see another therapist. If you want to transfer to a therapist outside of ASC, you have every right to do so, and we will make recommendations to you of other psychotherapists in the area if you wish. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the State of Colorado at:

INFECTIOUS DISEASE MEDICAL AND BEHAVIORAL SCREENING

In response to increasing rates of hepatitis B and C, sexually transmitted diseases, TB and HIV, all clients/patients receiving services from substance abuse treatment providers licensed by the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Division (ADAD) shall be screened for past and present risk factors, including those associated with substance abuse, for disease acquisition and transmission. In a joint effort, ADAD, the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment, substance abuse treatment providers and HIV and hepatitis advocacy groups and coalitions have developed two Screens for determining client/patient risk. In introducing the Screens to clients/patients the following points should be made (not in preferential order):

- Administering a screen is required by state regulation;
- Privacy of responses to screen questions is protected by federal regulation and state law;
- The screen provides important information to clients/patients about their levels of risk;
- In order to get the best information, honest, accurate responses to questions are vital.

INFECTIOUS DISEASE MEDICAL SCREEN

The Infectious Disease Medical Screen is intended to be self-administered at time of intake or shortly thereafter. A counselor or other person knowledgeable about the Screen should be available to assist with any client/patient questions or concerns. Questions 1 through 8 screens for risk of hepatitis B and/or C exposure. Questions 9 through 14 screens for risk of tuberculosis exposure/infection.

Appropriate Clinical Responses Guide

A “Yes” response to any of questions 1 through 7 and no record of being tested for hepatitis B and C should prompt a referral for testing and appropriate follow-up.

A “Yes” response to question 8 should prompt making information available about the possible (though low-level) risks involved.

If any of the categories in question 9 are marked, a TB skin test should be encouraged.

A “Yes” response to any of questions 10 through 14 indicates a high risk for active TB or TB infection and a referral to a healthcare practitioner or health department for testing/treatment should be made immediately.

INFECTIOUS DISEASE BEHAVIORAL SCREEN

The Infectious Disease Behavioral Screen can be self-administered or used in a face-to-face interview. The questions identify behaviors that may place clients/patients at risk for HIV and hepatitis B and C exposure. A scoring instrument for the screen tallies numeric values of client/patient responses and indicates appropriate clinical responses.

Because of the sensitive nature of the information being collected and the possibility of clients/patients perceptions of personal intrusion, it is recommended that the Screen be administered after some rapport and trust has been established, preferably following HIV and hepatitis education. If self-administered, a counselor or other person knowledgeable about the Screen should be available to assist with any client/patient questions or concerns.
